
Desiderata

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. . . .

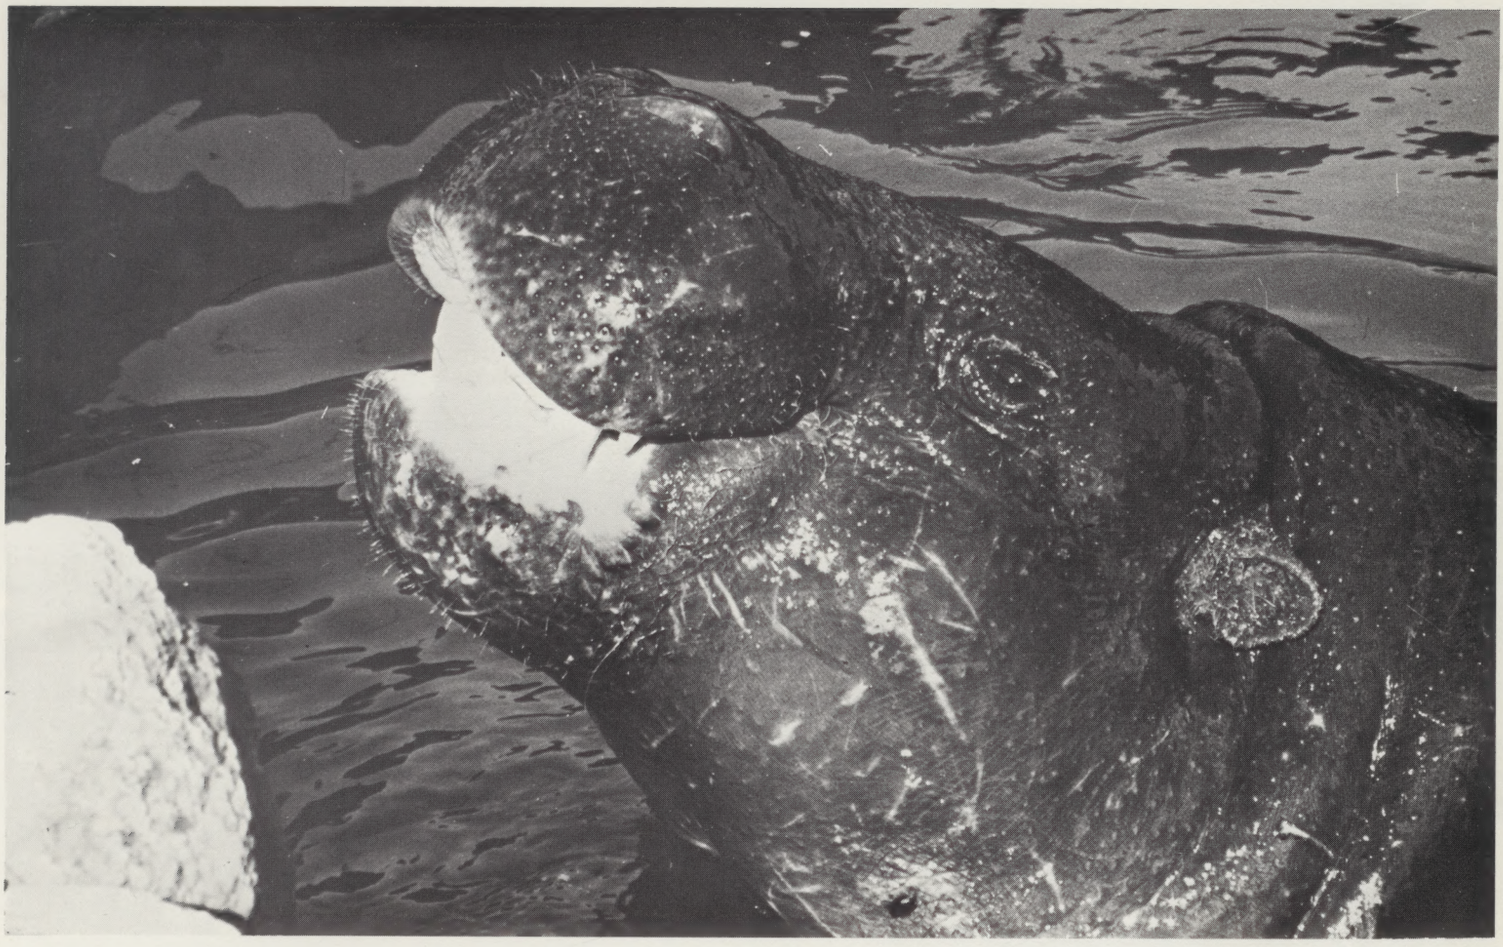
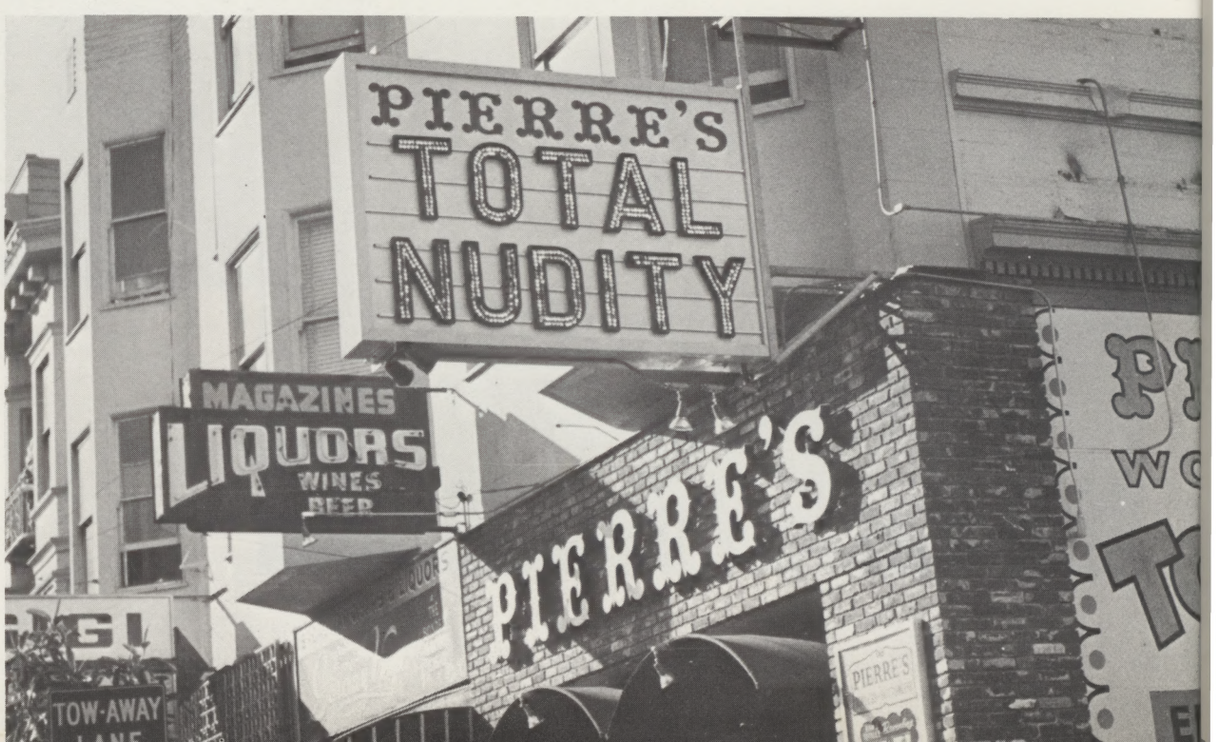
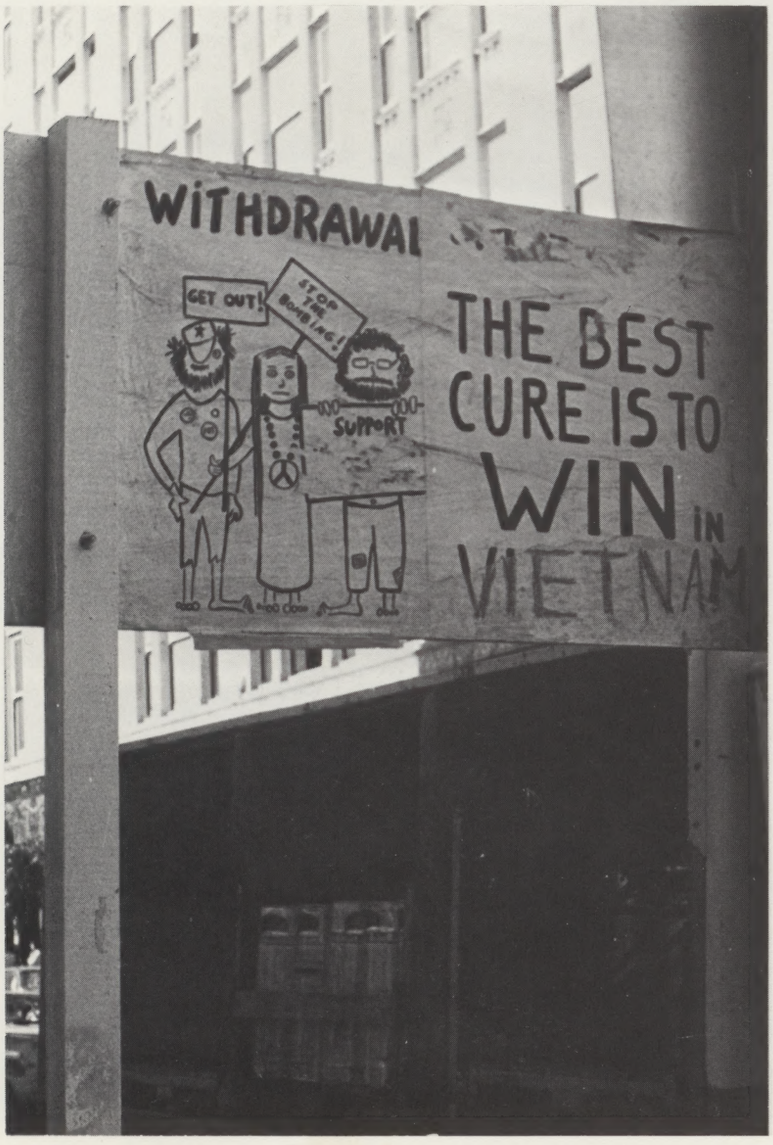
As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. . . .



Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story. . . .

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. . . .





If you compare yourself with others you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. . . .

Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however, humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. . . .

Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. . . .

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. . . .

Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. . . .

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. . . .

And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be.

In the noise and confusion of life, keep peace with your soul. . . .

With all its sham, drudgery, and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy. . . .

Del Valle, Del Valle, we hold thy honor high
As though it were a banner reaching for the sky.
A thoughtful heart, an eager mind,
Are gifts received from thee;
Our thanks we give to thee for this,
Thy lasting legacy.
A praise to thee, our Alma Mater,
Thoughts with you remain;
For ever in our gratitude
Your gracious gifts will reign.

We'd live the life
we choose.
We'd fight and never lose.
For we were young,
And sure to have our ways.

While Yet There is Time

The hours slip past;
our moments melt
into the eternity behind us;
Time sweeps us on to a destination
from which there is no return. . . .
While yet there is time
look out upon the world,
devour it with your eyes,
and, if your spirit demands more,
add at least one stone
to the edifice being built.
Fill your lungs with the smell of flowers;
let the first cool breath of dawn blow through your hair.
While yet there is time
let us greet the dawn together;
while yet there is time
love, and be loved;
let our thoughts
throw light in dark places;
let your lips
blossom in a smile.
While yet there is time
let the hand of a friend feel the warmth of your hand. . . .
How much we have to do,
to create, to express!
While yet there is time
graft a slender bough
to a mighty tree.
Do not say, "I love everyone" — be merciless to your enemies, be tender to your friends.
While yet there is time
live,
labor,
but live and labor
so that when you are gone everyone will see that where once you were an emptiness yawns.

Why it's good old reliable Nathan Nathan Nathan Nathan Detroit
If the size of your bundle you want to increase He'll arrange that you go broke in quiet and peace
In a hideout provided by Nathan where there are no neighbors to squawk
It's the oldest established permanent floating crap game in New York.

Yes, sir, when you see a guy, reach for stars in the sky,
You can bet that he's doing it for some doll.
When you spot a John waiting out in the rain
Chances are he's insane as only a John can be for a Jane.
When you meet a gent paying all kinds of rent
For a flat that could flatten the Taj Mahal
Call it sad, call it funny, but it's better than even money
That the guy's only doing it for some doll.

Men in Red Jackets

I'm an athlete.
The men in the red jackets told me so.
I don't let my sideburns grow and my shirt tail is always tucked in.

I don't associate with the wrong "kids."
The bad "kids."
The "kids" with long hair.
The "kids" who smoke or drink.
The "kids" who won't kiss ass.
How do I know they're bad?
The men in the red jackets told me so.

Much time and effort has gone into making me an athlete, and I should be thankful.
I'm a product of the department.
The men in the red jackets told me so.

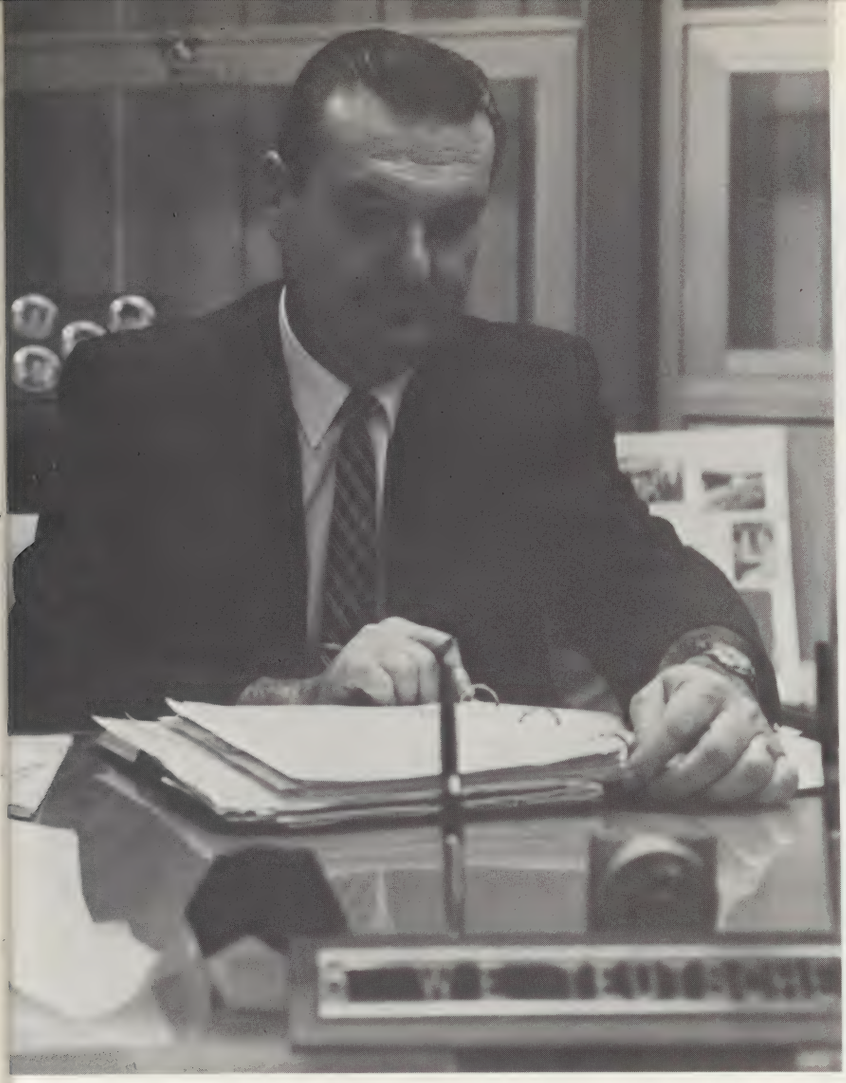
I run at the sound of the whistle.
I stop at the sound of the whistle.
I will grovel on the ground at its harsh scream.
The whistle governs my afterlife.
I'm well trained.
The men in the red jackets told me so.

Don't doubt.
Don't hesitate.
Don't reason.
I don't ask questions.
Dictators frown on questions.
The men in the red jackets told me so.

In memory of Donna Riley

"A man lives not only his personal life, as an individual, but also, consciously or unconsciously, the life of his epoch and his contemporaries."

Thomas Mann



William Teutschel

. . . Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar;
The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;
. . . Beware of entrance to a quarrel, but, being in,
Bear 't that th' opposed may beware of thee.
Give every man thine ear, but few thy voice;
Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment . . .
Neither a borrower, nor a lender be;
This above all: to thine own self be true.

Walter Hoy

Dee Silva

"The game of life looks cheerful when one carries a treasure safe in his heart."

Schiller

The Impossible Dream
To dream the impossible dream
To fight the unbeatable foe
To bear with unbearable sorrow
To run where the brave dare not go.
To right the unrightable wrong
To be better far than you are
To try when your arms are too weary
To reach the unreachable star.
This is my quest
To follow that star
No matter how hopeless
No matter how far
To fight for the right
To be willing to march
Into hell for a heavenly cause
And I know I would only be true
To this glorious quest
And my heart will be peaceful and calm
When I'm laid to my rest
And the world would be better for this.
When one man scorned
And covered with scars
With his last ounce of courage
To reach the unreachable star.

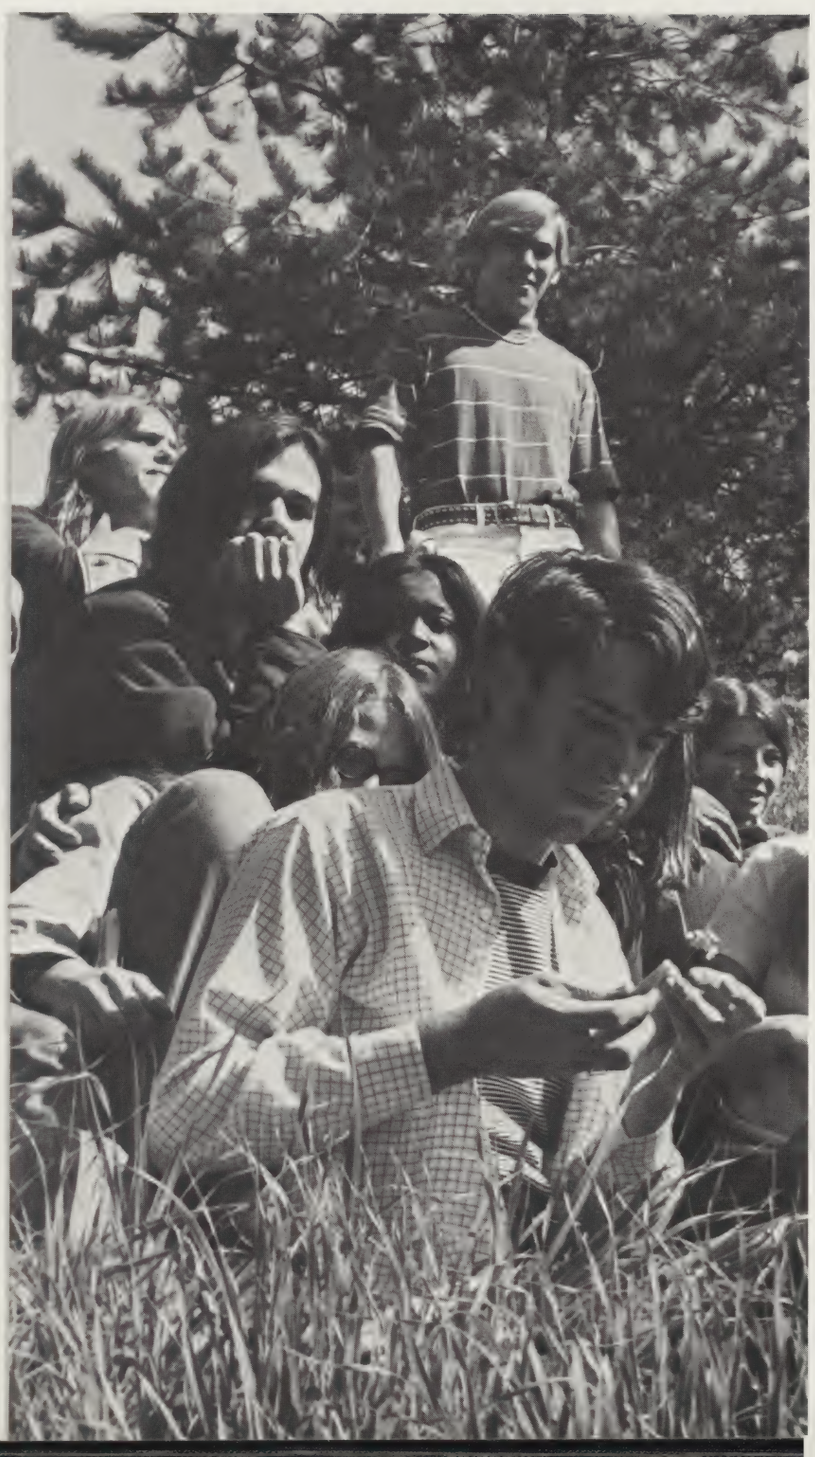
Happiness is getting out.
Juniors, you can have it.



". . . and so there ain't nothing more to write about, and I am rotten glad of it, because if I'd 'a' knowed what a trouble it was to make a book I wouldn't 'a' tackled it, and ain't a-going to no more. But I reckon I got to light out for the territory ahead of the rest, because Aunt Sally she's going to adopt me and sivilize me, and I can't stand it. I been there before.

— Huckleberry Finn
